

An impressionist landscape painting with a focus on light and color. The scene depicts a grassy field with scattered rocks and a path leading towards a distant, hazy horizon. The brushwork is visible and textured, with a palette dominated by greens, yellows, and earthy tones. The sky is a mix of soft, greyish-blue and white, suggesting a bright but slightly overcast day. The overall mood is serene and atmospheric.

Malíři světla

ČESKÝ IMPRESIONISMUS

KOOPERATIVY
GALERIÍ